ORGANIZATIONAL PROFILE

The Rural Coordination Centre of BC (RCCbc) seeks to improve the health of rural people and communities of British Columbia by supporting physician and healthcare provider health and practice, growing relationships through collaboration and partnerships, augmenting feedback loops and enhancing innovation. These goals are achieved through communication, facilitation, collaboration, evaluation, and sharing of best practices.

RCCbc supports and develops provincial initiatives by engaging and coordinating with rural healthcare providers to facilitate the development of local and/or regional solutions, frameworks, and networks. Though rural-focused, RCCbc sees value in applying rural solutions to benefit all health professionals facing similar challenges.

RCCbc advocates for greater equity in rural, remote, and Indigenous healthcare in British Columbia, and supports rural health education improvements through collaboration, communication, and ongoing relationship building.
