ABOUT THE ROLE

Reporting to the Board of Directors, the Executive Director is accountable for guiding the long and short-term leadership for all operational aspects of The Kettle Society. The Executive Director is responsible for achieving strategic, financial, program, and administrative objectives, in alignment with organizational mandate and Board direction. The Executive Director provides effective leadership and develops relationships with clients, donors, government officials, volunteers, and the broader community. The Executive Director develops and oversees the implementation of a comprehensive fundraising framework to ensure sustainable and diverse services and financial resources.

This is an excellent opportunity for an innovative, community-driven leader who is dedicated to service leadership, governance, and organizational development. The ideal candidate for the position, will have demonstrated track record in leading and growing an organization in the non-profit, social service, and/or public sectors. The ideal candidate will ideally have a master's degree (MBA or in a related field) supplemented by a minimum ten (10) years' experience in a senior management position, including experience with team leadership, financial management, program and service delivery, and community engagement. Demonstrated knowledge of non-profit board governance, strategic planning, and fund development is an asset. A combination of equivalent education and experience will be considered.

The salary range for the position is $168,000 – 192,000 per year, supplemented by a comprehensive employer-paid benefit plan.
